

Emory College awards substantial financial aid each year, some of it based on merit, but most on need. More detailed information on the programs and requirements for financial aid is available on request from the Office of Financial Aid or the Office of Admission, Boisfeuillet Jones Center, Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia 30322.

Emory Scholars Program

Each year Emory offers scholarships to a highly select group of incoming first-year students and invites them to join other outstanding Emory students in the Emory Scholars Program. Recipients of the various awards described here are chosen entirely on the basis of merit. They receive scholarships renewable for four years of undergraduate study, provided they maintain high standards of personal and academic excellence. Through the Emory Scholars Program, they participate in enriched intellectual, cultural, and social programs and academic and cultural opportunities at the University and in the city of Atlanta. The University is pledged to enhance the collegiate lives of these scholars in every possible way. Scholars also have summer opportunities to study abroad and to participate in a special service-learning and leadership program. For more information on the Emory Scholars Program, visit www.college.emory.edu/current/achievement/scholars.

Merit-Based Scholarships

All scholarships for entering freshmen require a student to be nominated by appropriate high school officials in order to be a candidate for selection. Nominations for the Martin Luther King Jr. Scholars are made by the high school principal to the superintendent of the Atlanta Public Schools. Nomination forms are mailed to high schools in the early fall. As many as four candidates may be nominated by each school.

All nominees and applicants for the scholars program must be candidates for admission to Emory College and must complete their application for admission and all materials for scholarship selection by November 1. The selection process for a number of the scholarships includes a weekend visit to the campus in late March or early April. Finalists will be brought to Emory (at no expense to them) for four days to interview with the scholars selection committee and participate in activities designed to help them become better acquainted with programs and opportunities at Emory. All scholarships are awarded solely on the basis of outstanding merit, without regard to financial need, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, age, disability, or veteran's status.

Recipients of merit-based scholarships are not precluded from receiving other financial aid based on additional demonstrated need (see "Financial Aid Based on Need" later in this section). Upon acceptance of applications, announcements for continuing students eligible for merit scholarships will be sent out as deadlines approach.

Secondary schools are invited to nominate their most outstanding students as candidates. During the initial stages of the selection process, nominees will be considered as candidates for all scholarships (with the exception of the Martin Luther King Jr. Scholars, who are selected through the Atlanta Public Schools as noted above).

Individual scholarships are described in detail below. They are renewable for four years of study in Emory College. For those that provide full tuition, the award includes the cost of tuition for the current academic year less any other awards a student receives designated specifically for tuition.

Ely R. Callaway Jr. Scholars

The Ely R. Callaway Jr. Scholarships honor a distinguished alumnus and benefactor of Emory College. Aimed at bringing talented Georgians to Emory, these scholarships are awarded to young men and women from Georgia who have distinguished themselves by academic excellence, individual achievement, and service to their schools and communities during their high school careers. Recipients are awarded a stipend equal to the cost of full tuition, fees, and University room and board.

Martin Luther King Jr. Scholars

The Martin Luther King Jr. Scholarships are awarded each year to outstanding students from the Atlanta Public Schools whose qualities of mind and spirit promise outstanding contributions to society. Scholarships are in the amount of full tuition, fees, University room and board, and any additional need, as demonstrated by the federal FAFSA and College Scholarship Service PROFILE. Interested students should seek nomination to the superintendent of the Atlanta Public Schools from their high school principals.

Robert W. Woodruff Scholars

The Robert W. Woodruff Scholarships bear the name of the renowned businessman and philanthropist who was head of The Coca-Cola Company for many years and was a peerless benefactor of Emory University. The scholarships are awarded to young men and women who have demonstrated qualities of forceful and unselfish character, intellectual and personal vigor, outstanding academic achievement, impressive skills in communication, significant leadership and creativity in school or community, and clear potential for enriching the lives of their contemporaries at Emory University. Recipients of the Robert W. Woodruff Scholarships are awarded a stipend equal to the cost of full tuition, fees, and University room and board.

The following endowed scholarships are awarded each year and, except where noted, these awards are full tuition scholarships.

Henry L. Bowden Scholars

The Bowden Scholarships honor a distinguished graduate of Emory College who served for twenty years as chair of the University's Board of Trustees. Henry L. Bowden Scholarships are made on the basis of academic achievement, character, and leadership to students who show promise of significant contributions to Emory College. Residents of the Southeast will be considered, with Georgia residents given priority.

Charles and Anne Duncan Scholars

Charles William Duncan Jr. of Houston, Texas, established this scholarship for gifted students from west of the Mississippi. At least one Duncan Scholarship is awarded each year, with priority given to residents of Texas and the Southwest.

Edward D. Smith Scholars

The Edward D. Smith Scholarship has been endowed in honor of a distinguished Emory College alumnus who became one of the South's leading bankers. The scholarship, which gives priority to an outstanding graduate of the Westminster Schools in Atlanta, commemorates Smith's devoted trusteeship of both Emory and Westminster. The Edward D. Smith Scholarship recognizes strong moral character, outstanding academic achievement, and effective, unselfish service to others.

Pollard Turman Leadership Scholars

J. Pollard Turman, a native of Atlanta, was a member of Emory's family and a guiding force at the University for over fifty years. Throughout his life, Turman was an influential humanitarian. His understanding and support of higher education combined with his personal commitment have benefited institutions throughout Georgia. The Pollard Turman Leadership Scholarship is awarded to incoming first-year students who show special leadership potential, as demonstrated by their personal commitment to service and excellence in school, civic, and other activities, combined with sound academic achievement. Residents of the Southeast receive special consideration.

D. Abbott Turner Scholars

The D. Abbott Turner Scholarship is awarded each year to a distinguished graduate of a Georgia high school. Preference is first given to graduates of the Brookstone School in Columbus and then to natives of the Chattahoochee Valley. Turner Scholarships are awarded on the basis of character, achievement, and service.

Chris A. Yannopoulos Scholarship

Endowed by Mr. and Mrs. Michael Carlos in memory of her son, the Chris A. Yannopoulos Scholarship is awarded to students who have demonstrated an interest in classical studies or who represent the strengths brought to the United States by immigrants from other lands.

In addition to the endowed scholarships described above, the college honors a distinguished group of individuals by selecting scholarship recipients in their names. Unless otherwise noted, these scholarships are awarded in the amount of full tuition and are renewable for four years of undergraduate study.

The Flora Glenn Candler Scholarships bear the name of Emory's greatest patron of the arts. Candler Scholars are recognized for their pursuit of excellence both in academics and the performing arts.

The Ignatius Alphonso Few Scholarships honor the founding president of Emory College. As early as 1832, he believed that the Methodists of Georgia should start a college to provide systematic education on the rather rough western frontier of settlement in the state. His efforts were rewarded when Emory was granted its charter in 1836 with Few as the first president.

The Augustus Baldwin Longstreet Scholarships carry the name of Emory College's second president and the author of numerous sketches known collectively as Georgia Scenes, one of the most celebrated pieces of regional literature.

The Dumas Malone Scholarships honor an Emory alumnus who is considered America's most distinguished biographer. From 1962 until his death in 1987, Malone was resident biographer at the University of Virginia. There he completed his Jefferson volumes, the fifth of which won the Pulitzer Prize in 1975 and the last of which he completed under the handicap of total blindness.

The Kemp Malone Scholarships bear the name of the 1911 Emory graduate who became known as the most distinguished American scholar in his generation focusing on Old English language and literature.

The Benjamin E. Mays Scholarships, honoring the distinguished educator and community leader who served for many years as president of Morehouse College in Atlanta, are awarded in conjunction with the selection process for the Martin Luther King Jr. Scholarship.

The Alexander Means Scholarships carry the name of a multi-talented scientist, physician, minister, and teacher who served as the fourth president of Emory College. With equal interest and talent, he combined the scientific, philosophic, and poetic temperaments.

The David M. Potter Scholarships honor a distinguished Emory alumnus and winner of the Pulitzer Prize for history. His comprehensively researched and exceptionally penetrating writings on the American South and other subjects convinced many of Potter's colleagues that he was the greatest American historian of the mid-twentieth century.

The Jocelyn Taylor Scholarships honor a member of the staff of Emory College for her loyal and unstinting service for many years with the Department of History and later as assistant to the dean and coordinator of the Honors Program.

The following scholarships are awarded in the amount of partial tuition.

The Dean's Achievement Scholarships, which include the Ammerman family, Jeanne Gold, Pat H. Odom, and Goodrich C. White awards, are awarded each year to rising sophomores and juniors in Emory College who have a GPA of at least 3.60 and have demonstrated unusual capability through involvement in the academic and extracurricular life of the Emory community. The applications are available in March and the deadline is typically mid to late April. These awards are for $5,000. Recipients also will become full participants in the Emory Scholars Program. Students who are already receiving full-tuition, merit-based awards or courtesy scholarships, or other Emory scholarships that include membership in the Emory Scholars program cannot receive additional financial assistance from this award. For students receiving need-based financial aid, these awards will normally replace loan support in their financial aid package. Decisions about these awards are typically announced in July.

The John Emory Scholarships, in the amount of two-thirds tuition, are offered each year to a select group of Emory Scholar finalists.

Other Awards

Robert T. Jones Jr. Scholarship

The Robert T. Jones Jr. Scholarships were established in 1976 to honor the memory of the internationally renowned golfer and Emory alumnus. They provide a full year of study for Emory students at the University of St. Andrews, Scotland. With approval in advance by the student's major department, study under the auspices of these scholarships may count as residence in Emory College.

John Gordon Stipe Society of Scholars

The Stipe Society is designed to foster original, independent scholarship and creative endeavors in the arts among Emory College students and to encourage communication between undergraduate students and faculty members engaged in scholarly research. Twenty currently enrolled students are selected as associate scholars each year on the basis of proven ability in a field of scholarship and recommendations by teachers in that field. Election is for one year only, and students must apply for re-election. Those Stipe Scholars who are not already receiving faculty/staff courtesy scholarships or other scholarships that include full tuition receive an honorarium of one thousand dollars; for those receiving need-based financial aid, this honorarium replaces the college grant portion of their aid up to the amount of one thousand dollars. For further information, contact the Office for Undergraduate Education, 300 White Hall, Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia 30322.

Liberal Arts Scholarships

The Liberal Arts Scholarships are partial tuition scholarships. Students who are named semifinalists in the Emory Scholars competition are awarded partial tuition scholarships in recognition of their academic excellence.

Alben W. Barkley Debate Scholars

(Selected from first-year applicants to Emory.) Up to two outstanding debaters in the incoming first-year class are recognized each year with scholarships renewable for four years of undergraduate study. These awards (and the Barkley Forum debate program) honor the memory of Alben W. Barkley, a late vice president of the United States and graduate of Emory College. Candidates for admission to Emory College with outstanding debating experience should include their debating history on the admission application. Information may be obtained by writing to Melissa Wade, Director of Barkley Forum, Drawer U, Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia 30322, or by visiting www.emory.edu/BF/.

Dean's Music Scholarships

These scholarships are awarded each year to incoming first-year students who show exceptional promise in their applied areas of music. The awards cover half the cost of tuition. Students who wish to be considered for these scholarships must meet all admission requirements of Emory College, must plan to major in music, and must audition for the scholarships before February 1. No additional application is required. Scholarship recipients are notified in April. For more information about the awards or about the audition process, go to www.emory.edu/MUSIC/ or call 404-7276445.

Oxford Scholarships

Oxford Scholarships are awarded to students who chose to pursue the first two years of Emory University's liberal arts curriculum at Oxford College and then transition to Emory College as juniors. Each year Oxford College designates a number of its outstanding incoming freshmen as Oxford Scholars. Oxford Scholars include Robert W. Woodruff Scholars, Dean's Scholars, and Faculty Scholars, all of whom are selected on the basis of their grades, curriculum test scores, essays, extracurricular activities, and demonstrated interest in the Scholars Program. While enrolled at Oxford, these scholars participate in the Oxford Scholars Program, and they participate in the Emory Scholars Program once they transition to the Atlanta campus.

United Methodist Ministerial Scholarships

Sons or daughters of active United Methodist ministers or missionaries may receive a scholarship in the amount of 45 percent of current tuition. Application forms are available from the Office of Financial Aid. This award may be adjusted when combined with other tuition awards.

Courtesy Scholarships

Dependents of eligible Emory University faculty or staff members may apply for a Courtesy Scholarship up to the amount of full tuition (less other tuition grants). Applications are available from the Human Resources Office.

Emory National Merit Scholars

National Merit finalists who select Emory as their first-choice college are awarded $1,000 to $2,000 annually by Emory College. An honorarium of $1,000 annually is awarded to those without demonstrated need. Students who receive a Corporate National Merit Scholarship will also receive $1,000 annually from Emory College. National Merit finalists who demonstrate need using the results of the FAFSA and PROFILE receive from $1,000 to $2,000 annually.

Financial Aid Based on Need

Many Emory College students are able to meet the costs of an Emory education with various types of financial assistance, including grants, scholarships, loans, and employment, all of which are administered by the Office of Financial Aid. To be considered for financial aid, a student must be admitted to Emory College and must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and the College Scholarship Service PROFILE form. Parents and students will also be asked to submit supporting documents (such as federal tax returns and W2 forms) to the Office of Financial Aid. The FAFSA, PROFILE, and other documents are then analyzed to determine the financial strength of the family and the applicant's eligibility for assistance. To be given priority consideration for all types of financial aid, an applicant should submit the FAFSA and PROFILE to the processor by February 15 prior to fall enrollment. The PROFILE, FAFSA, and parent and student tax returns, all schedules, attachments, and W2s must be received in the Office of Financial Aid no later than April 1 prior to fall enrollment. Application and award information are available from the Office of Financial Aid, Boisfeuillet Jones Center, Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia 30322; telephone 404.727.6039 or on the web at www.emory.edu/FINANCIAL_AID/.

Grants

Emory College offers several institutional grants that are based on financial need. Eligibility is determined on an annual basis and students must complete the PROFILE and FAFSA forms by published deadlines each year. To be eligible, students must maintain satisfactory academic progress and demonstrate continuing financial need. In addition to institutional need-based grants, students may be eligible to receive federal grants such as the Pell Grant and the Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant. Georgia residents may also be eligible for HOPE scholarships ($3000 per academic year) and Tuition Equalization Grants (annual amount varies). Residents of other states should contact their home-state student aid agencies about financial aid programs that can be used for attendance at Emory.

Students are not eligible for need-based financial aid after they have completed nine full semesters of college work; exceptions can only be granted by the Committee on Academic Standards.

Emory Advantage

Emory Advantage is Emory University's financial aid initiative to help students from lower- and middle-income families. Eligible students may qualify for need-based grants in place of the need-based loans normally found in award packages. To learn more, go to www.emory.edu/Financial_Aid/emory_advantage.

Loans

Financial aid awards usually include at least one type of student loan. Loans available to students who demonstrate financial need include federal Perkins Loans and federal Stafford Loans. Students are expected to borrow increasing amounts each year as they progress through school and the maximum annual loan amount increases.

Federal Work-study

Financial aid awards typically include federally supported student employment, which can take place on campus or off campus in the Atlanta area. Income earned in the federal work-study program is part of a student's financial aid award, although it is paid directly to the student in the form of wages.

Other Student Employment

The Office of Financial Aid maintains a directory of job opportunities to assist students interested in obtaining part-time employment that is not based on need. You can view a list of available job opportunities online at www.emory.edu/FINANCIAL_AID/student_employment/.
