What is FERPA?

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) protects the privacy of student records by requiring prior written consent before disclosing personally identifiable information to a third party. It applies to colleges and universities that receive funding from the federal government.

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW

- Each student attending classes at Emory has these rights, regardless of age. Parents had these rights in high school.
- FERPA gives students the right to inspect their educational records. They have ownership of these rights as long as they live.
- Students may complete a FERPA Consent Form to release information to other individuals. More on this later!

What do I have access to?

(No consent form required)

- Whether or not a student is enrolled
- Address
- Telephone Number

- School/Division and class/year
- Dates of enrollment, including full-time/part-time status
- Degrees earned and date
- Major Area of Concentration

- Academic honors received
- Awards of merit
- Participation in officially recognized activities and sports

Consent Forms

What do they cover?

Your student may complete a FERPA Consent Form.

The form allows them to list specific individuals who have permission to receive more academic information.

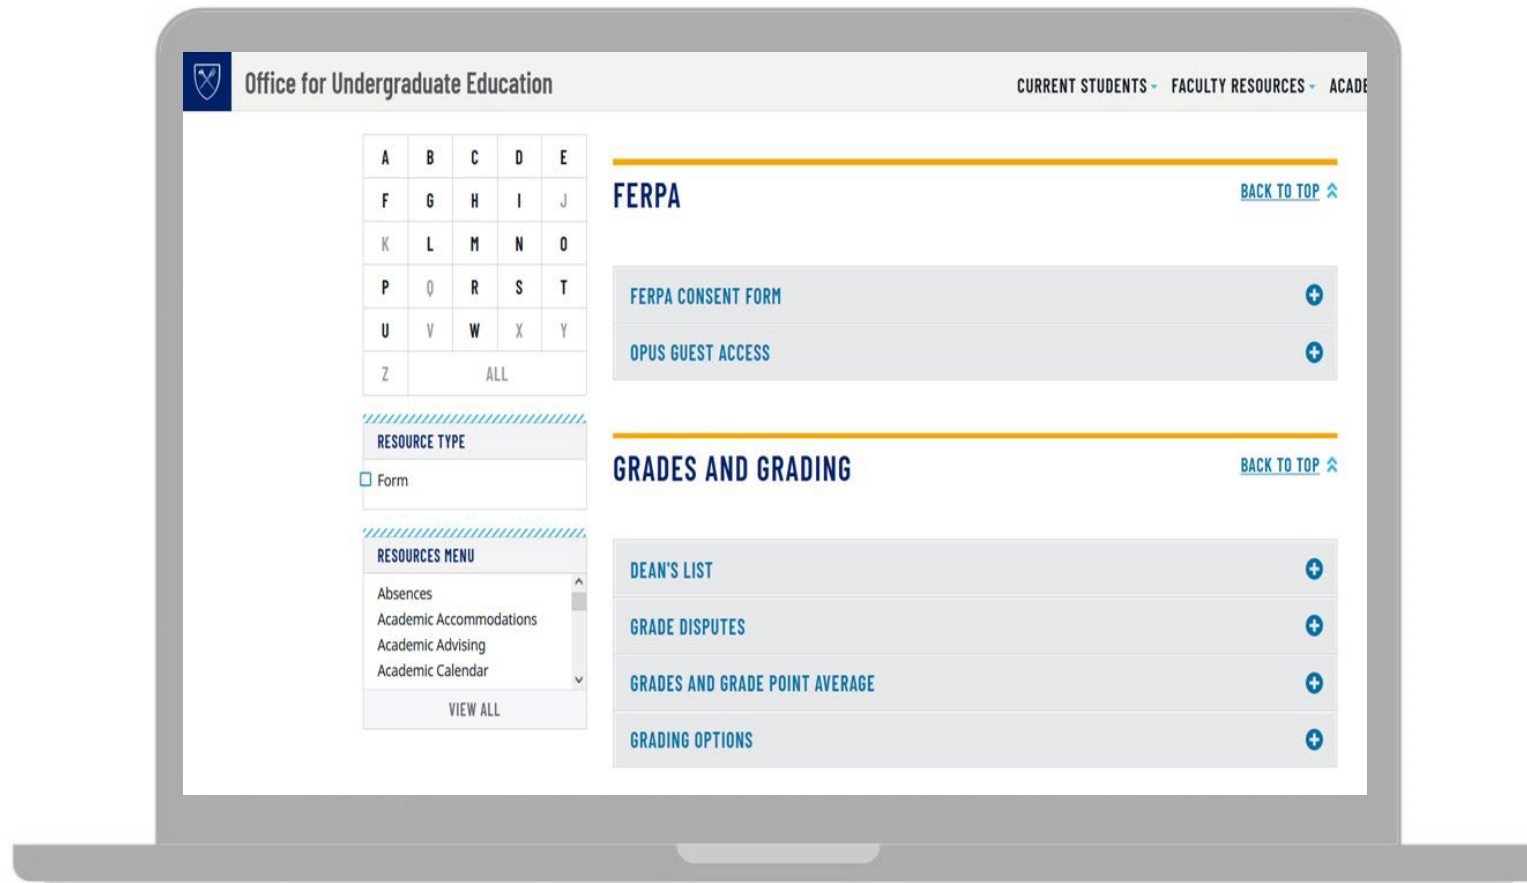

Information about or related to academic life at Emory

General advisory letters based on academic performance

Authorization for the Dean of Emory College of Arts and Sciences (or a representative) to discuss academic performance with those listed

Copy of any notification regarding academic probation or exclusion from the college

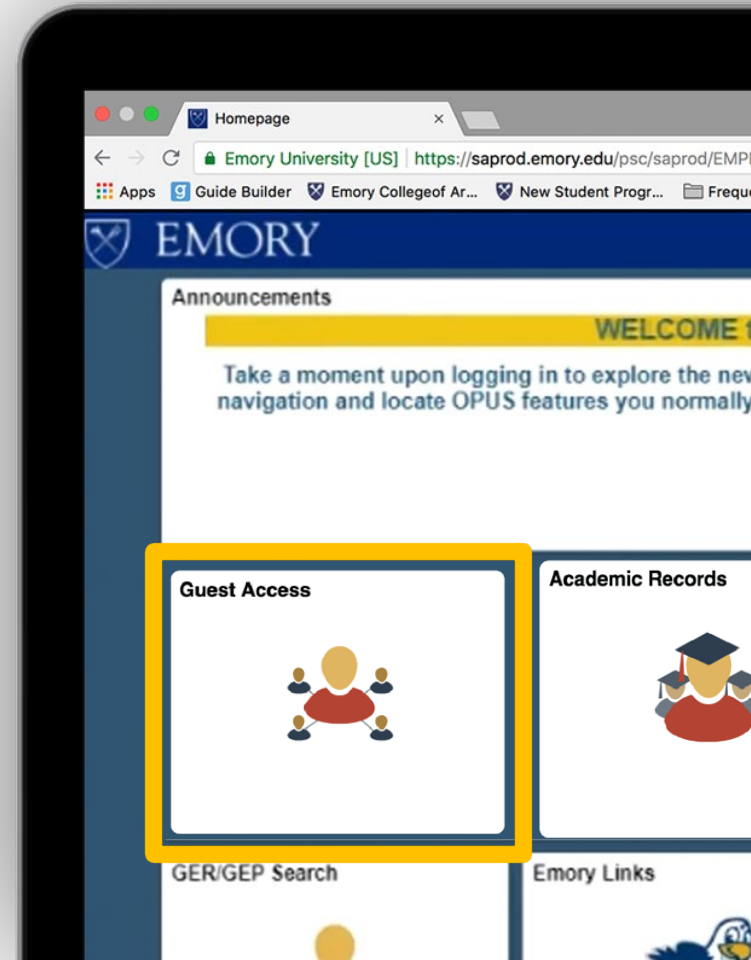

How do I get it?

Additional Access

Students have the option to grant up to 5 Guest Access accounts.

- The student will create an account for each guest and have the option to allow what they can see or what function they can access.
- The student has the option to delete or add any guest they wish at any time.
- opus.emory.edu > Guest Access

Helping Your Student “Adult”

 - Be aware of To-Do List dates and start managing your calendar
 - Enjoy your summer 😊
- Questions to ask
 - What are your communication expectations?
